Dr. Ralph W. Noyer was born in Rochester, Indiana in 1885 to L.M. and Ella Noyer. He graduated from Indiana University with his A.B. degree in 1906, and with his master's degree in 1910. In 1922, he was awarded his Ph.D. from Iowa State University. Dr. Noyer also studied at the Teachers College at Columbia University in New York City after completing his doctorate.

From 1904 to 1905, Dr. Noyer served as assistant principal, and as teacher of Latin and English, at Akron High School in Indiana. Following that, he was head of the Latin department at Bloomington High School from 1906 to 1911, and then became vice principal at the high school in New Albany, Indiana from 1911 to 1914. From 1914 to 1916, Dr. Noyer was professor of public speaking at the State Teachers College in Kirksville, Missouri, and starting in 1916 he spent twelve years as the head of the department of English, and, later, as director of the extension and publicity division at Nebraska State Teachers College in Kearney, Nebraska.

Dr. Noyer became dean of the Ball State Teachers College on January 1, 1928. During his early years with the college, he also served as head of the foreign language department. After 24 years as dean, Dr. Noyer retired from Ball State in 1952. Following his retirement, he taught education courses at Anderson College, and he returned to Ball State in 1955 to teach English.
